

AMERICAN STUDIO MOVEMENT JEWELRY CHEST IN WALNUT

Description

A modernist, walnut jewelry box in a near racetrack form comprising a laminated body, a sensuous, hand-sculpted lid, and a single drawer fitted with a forged metal pull, all raised upon a recessed, shallow foot (.19 h). The drawer interior resembles a chocolatier's assortment box with its solid, undulant frame containing 21 individual niches (each is 2 dia). A substantial piece that weighs over 18 pounds. Likely a one-off design, artist unknown, circa 1970.
